Port Bienville lease stalls in final stages

By BRENT MACEY
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission Thursday took action which commission members hoped would bring two new industrial clients to the Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Final approval of a lease agreement between the county and Gonzales Marine Enterprises, a Pascagoula firm which plans to hire 300 employees in the first year to build jack-up, work-over, or offshore oil drilling rigs, was expected to be consummated at a Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting Monday.

However, Wilson Webb, commission director, said late Friday afternoon that a representative from Gonzales called and informed the commission that a contract to build the oil rig had not yet been signed by Dolphin International of Houston with Gonzales.

Webb said plans to finalize the agreement at the supervisors' meeting will now be held in abeyance until the company receives the contract.

"We Commissioners may mention it (the lease) at the Supervisor's meeting but no action will be taken," Webb said.

Webb said he believed Dolphin has withdrawn the contract with Gonzales because Dolphin's parent company, Butte Gas and Oil of California, recently bought Progress Drilling.

Parents protest exclusion of 4th grade football players

By BRENT MACEY
Several Gullview Elementary School parents protested at a Hancock County School Board meeting Wednesday the banning of Gullview fourth graders from playing in Booster Club sponsored Fea-Wee football games.

The residents stated conference rules allow any school child nine years old who weighs 30 pounds or over to play pee-wee football.

However, Glenda Chlason, a parent whose child attends fourth grade, said her son came home from school with a notice stating he was no longer eligible because he was a fourth grader.

She said her son weighed over 30 pounds and was eligible to play.

The parents said Gullview Principal William Haddock was responsible for Board members agreed the games take place after school hours and are sponsored and organized by the Booster Club.

If the school board allowed elementary school children in these grades to play varsity athletics, the district would lose accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

However, Laddner said that since the games are played on school property, these children are not allowed.

Limited refreshment aid available to fire fighters

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The American Red Cross' Hancock County Chapter is now again offering fire fighter, emergency refreshment services, but on a limited basis.

John (Big John) Rutherford of Bay St. Louis, county Red Cross chairman, recently revealed the fire fighter service, which was discontinued due to a lack of funds, is now available at fire scenes only if a blaze battle is expected to last several hours.

He emphasized a fire department chief must request the service before any Red Cross units are dispatched.

Robert Clark of Bay St. Louis, Red

Cross disaster service co-chairman, explains the refreshment aid provides such items as soft drinks in warm weather and coffee and hot chocolate during winter months to fire fighters help them maintain stamina to fight blazes and replace fluids sweated away.

He also noted that the national Red Cross organization will fund the local refreshment service for fire fighters if a blaze effects five or more families.

Fire Chiefs Kenneth Fayard of Waveland and Andrew Lizana of Bay St. Louis and Ed Frloux, Diamondhead fire safety administrator, all recently said they did not know the refreshment service was again available on a limited basis.

Commission seeking county judge's ouster

A state commission is recommending Lloyd W. Anderson, a Hancock County Justice Court judge, be removed from office.

The State Judicial Performance Commission in Jackson is asking the Mississippi Supreme Court to remove Anderson on grounds of alleged irregularities in handling traffic cases.

Anderson is slated to appear in a County Circuit Court at the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis for trial on Oct. 12 facing charges brought in a recent Grand Jury indictment.

Charles P. Quarterman, attorney for the commission's Judicial Review Committee, recently revealed that Anderson is the first judge the group has asked to be removed from office.

He said the committee found Anderson charged $114 in fine money from $5 a case for his own use in April and June of 1979.

These acts did constitute willful misconduct in office and conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice, which brings the judicial office into disrepute," Quarterman stated.

The attorney said the commission found Anderson deprived two defendants in his court of due process after they were stopped for speeding on I-10 in the county by Rayburn Silkswood, a former highway patrolman, but not issued tickets.

Quarterman reported records indicate Anderson found both defendants guilty and suspended fines with providing notice of a hearing, then collected a $10 fee for the two tickets.

Walter Gex of Diamondhead, Anderson's attorney, recently said he did not challenge facts determined by a commission hearing of the case earlier this year, but believed that the judge's removal is too severe penalty.

He stated that justice court judges should not be required to maintain the same standards as other judges who

Most '80 building found in Waveland

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The City of Waveland recorded the highest 1980 construction dollar value in a tri-city area including Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian.

Waveland construction totalled $4,142,570 compared to the Bay with $2,405,055 and the Pass with $1,003,092, based on recently released figures compiled by the Mississippi Research and Development Center's Long Beach branch office.

The report reveals no new Pass Christian commercial construction during 1980.

The R and D Center derives its dollar amounts from local building permits which must list a construction cost estimate.

Emile Henley, Waveland's building inspector, Wednesday morning explained, "The number one reason why our 1980 total is so high is due to $1,883,000 in Choctaw Shopping Center construction which provides 108,844-square-feet in commercial building space."

The building inspector also cited an addition by T.G. & V. Family Center and renovations at National Food Store in Our Shopping Center as contributing to the high 1980 construction figures.

A category breakdown of Waveland's construction total includes:

- 18 new residential structures valued at $1,193,497;
- Nine commercial buildings costing 2,015,293;
- 16 varied construction activities

totaling $33,000;

- 192 permits issued for $840,820 in alterations, additions and repairs.

Bay St. Louis permitted:

- 88 new residential structures valued at $1,548,695;

- Five commercial buildings costing $357,850;

- 101 alteration, addition and repair projects valued at $499,320.

Pass Christians various permits include:

- 21 new residential structures costing $737,295;

- No commercial structures;

- 42 alteration, addition and repair projects valued at $268,579;

Comparing the previous two years activities:

- Waveland's construction values total $2,355,001 in 1979 and $3,317,919 in 1978;

- Bay St. Louis' construction values total $2,290,177 in 1979 and $3,063,307 in 1978;

- Pass Christian's construction values total $1,327,435 in 1979 and $1,614,262 in 1978.

Construction in the flood prone areas of Hancock County has remained at about $2.5 million over the last three years.

The county does not require building permits countywide, so no information on total area construction is available.

Construction in the Hancock flood zones amount to $2,687,733 in 1980; $2,501,593 in 1979; and $2,648,833 in 1978.

County jobless rate declines

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County's unemployment rate dropped to its lowest point in August since April. The local rate is well below state and national figures for the same period.

The county's August 9.5 percent unemployment level was last matched in April, but was 6.2 percent in March — the lowest Hancock figure recorded this year.

Harold Hooper, manager of the Mississippi Employment Service's Gulfport office, Monday said no single factor contributed to the local employment rate improvement.

Based on the employment service's figures, Hancock's August civilian labor force listing of 7,220 represents a decrease of some 200 from July reports.

The number of unemployed in the county totalled 470 in August which represents a decrease of 100 from the previous month.

During the same period, Mississippi's unemployment level rose one-tenth of a percentage point to 8.3 percent which is well above the national rate of 7.2 percent.

In Mississippi some 82,800 were reported unemployed out of a 1,002,800 civilian work force.

Nationwide some 7,758,000 were jobless out of 107,771,000 workers.

O.H. Simmons, executive director of the employment service, recently said in Jackson, "Last year's August unemployment rate in Mississippi was 8.3 percent."

Initial unemployment insurance claims total 16,323 for August," he reported.

"Counties with the highest unemployment rates in August are Greene, with a rate of 18.8 percent; Jefferson, with 15.1 percent; and Marshall, with 13.5 percent," Simmons noted.

"Rankin, Jones, and Oktibbeha counties reported the lowest jobless rates in August; Rankin has a rate of 4.2 percent, Jones with 5.2 percent, and Oktibbeha with 5.5 percent," he said.

"Some 44 of the state's 82 counties show increases in unemployment rates for August, while 34 report decreases. The jobless rate in four counties remains the same," Simmons added.

Picayune men injured in crash

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Three Picayune men were injured in a two-vehicle accident on Hwy. 43 in Hancock County approximately eight miles south of that city.

Ed Underwood of Waveland, a Mississippi Highway Patrol officer, Friday said the accident occurred at about 1:10 p.m. and involved a pickup and a dump truck.

He reported both vehicles were travelling northwest on the highway when the dump truck driven by Willie L. Berry, 23, of 402 Blank Ave. apparently struck the rear of the pickup driven by Edward O. Kendrick, 52, of 1406 Sycamore Road.

Underwood stated his investigation revealed that after the impact the pickup went off the right side of the road and the dump truck veered off the left side of the road, crossed back across the highway and turned over on its side on the right shoulder.

The patrolman said both men were taken by ambulance to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune with Berry apparently suffering lacerations of the right upper arm and forearm.

Kendrick was treated for apparent shock and held at the hospital for observation.

Underwood reported Hank Williamson, 28, a pickup truck passenger also of Sycamore Road, was later transported to the hospital, apparently suffering from a swollen left forearm.

The patrolman speculated all the men had been treated at the hospital and released.

He said Berry has been charged with failure to yield pending further investigation.

Underwood noted Deputy Nathan Hoda of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department was first at the scene and assisted in traffic control.

Other patrolmen also assisting Underwood were Rodney Wilkes of Picayune and Tony Greer of Hancock County.

Deserves to feel bad?
Q. There are so many things that I have done in the past that disgust me now and that I wish I could take back. I know God has forgiven me and others have forgiven me. Friends and even a counselor told me that I have to learn to forgive myself, but they can't even suggest how I go about it.

I've tried so hard, but it's like a battle going on inside. I feel as though I deserve to feel bad. How can I rid myself of this incredible guilt that goes back 34 years?

A. You will "deserve to feel bad" if you don't show some gratitude to God and to others who love you enough to forgive you. You have peace and joy offered you, but instead you sadistically flay yourself. Don't try so hard. Just let go and take the forgiveness offered you. Turn your back on the past—toss away the guilt feelings and choose happiness.

We are sending you our booklet Try Faith and Watch What Happens which is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564. Money won't buy love.

Q. I stood by my husband when he was an alcoholic, praying for him to quit drinking. He finally did. Hasn't touched it in 16 years. The problem is another woman. He told her on the phone that he loves her, but he says he doesn't want a divorce. We've been married 45 years, have a nice home. My husband is good to me and buys me anything I want. But money won't buy love, and it's his love I want. How do I get it?

A. You might go back in memory 45 years and beyond, and reconstruct how you got his love then. Be as lovable now, 45 years later, as you were then.

That he loves you more than anyone else is obvious for he does not want to let you go. Let him know how important he is to you and how much you love him. You can outsmart the other woman if you take a positive attitude.

Loves both of them
Q. I am 16 and going with a 24 year old guy. We love each other. He is a respectable guy, and I am not just a silly teenager who has a crush. And it is not puppy love. I consider myself to be very mature for my age. Now the problem is, I'm also in love with a guy my own age. His parents had a grudge against me and made us break up and my whole world kind of collapsed. Then I started to date my present boyfriend. But I still love my ex-boyfriend. In fact, I love both of them, and it will not be easy to fall out of love with either one. Which one should I take?

A. If you are unable to decide which of two boys you love it suggests that you are not in love with either of them! If you have to ask which one you really want, it means perhaps that you should wait for "the one" yet to come along. When that happens you will really know for sure.

EDITORIAL

Public Forum attendance very important!

Our State of Mississippi lacks many things, one of which is mandatory education for our children. Apparently mandatory education is important since the other 49 states of the US have an enforceable attendance law for students.

Now Mississippi's lack of an attendance law is something we once had when we were in school, but the law was repealed sometime around the integration of schools.

We can well remember the feat of Mr. Foster Commerce paying us a visit if we missed school.

Parents as well as teachers would remind us of the fact that he would be around if we played hooky.

The facts we have received, (see page 5-A) are very shocking on how Mississippi stacks up with the other 49 states.

Public kindergartens are something else lacking in Mississippi.

We are fortunate in Hancock County to have several private kindergarten's, but there are many counties in the state having none at all.

Interesting facts are revealed in literature received in regards to kindergarten's importance, see page 5-B.

We bring these things up for one important reason, on Monday Ray Mabius, Governor William Winter's legislative assistant will be the guest speaker at a Public Forum on kindergarten and compulsory school attendance.

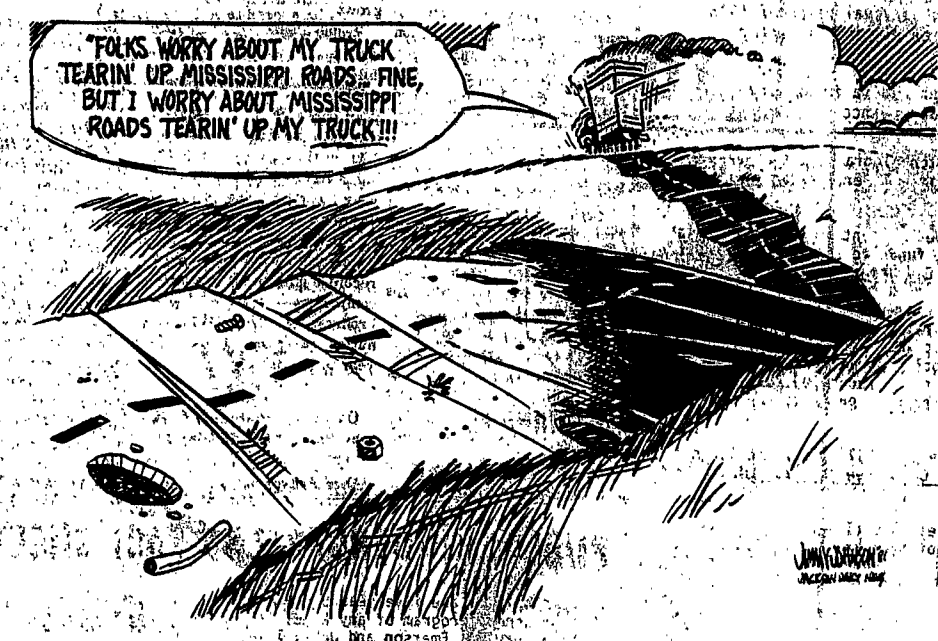

We realize the time will affect some, because it will be at 1:30 p.m. and held at the Senior Citizen's Building on the Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

We are told by the organizers of this public forum, efforts will be made if interests are shown at Monday's forum to have others at a more convenient time.

We hope everyone who can sneak away from work will try to attend Monday's Public Forum, because it is of grave importance to all residents of Hancock County as well as Mississippi as a whole.

SIGNS INSTALLED—In response to pleas by Bay St. Louis beachfront residents Mayor Larry Bennett authorized city crews to install signs establishing a no parking zone on the landward side of Beach Boulevard from Carroll Avenue to De Montauz Street. NEWS

MOVING TOWARD EQUITY

In 1983 Mississippi, for the first time in its history, will have an equitable property tax system but there are efforts among several special interest groups to erode that equity.

County governments are now under a mandate to reappraise all property by 1983 and equalize all assessments, but there are efforts to insert classification of property for ad valorem tax purposes into the new law.

Proponents of classification generally call for three classifications and assessments with residential, agricultural and forest land being assessed at one level, railroads, rail property, and business property at another level, and public utilities assessed at a higher level.

The Mississippi Economic Council opposed classification because it will remove equity in property taxation and will establish, as state policy, the granting of preferential treatment to one segment of the economy at the expense of another.

Specifically, MEC believes classification is undesirable because: Classification is discriminatory. Under classification, a property tax advantage would be given to one segment of the economy at the expense of another.

Classification shifts the burden of taxation to another segment of society usually to business property. Because increased business costs are inevitably passed on to the consumer, individual taxpayers begin supporting a heavier tax burden indirectly through increased prices of goods and services.

Classification erodes the tax base as it likens property tax to an income tax based upon ability to pay. As this happens, more and more pressure will be brought to change the system, to give additional preferential treatment to the politically strong at the expense of the politically weak.

The MEC believes that classification would help destroy the state's economic climate and would be an obvious step backward in Mississippi's march toward economic improvement.

Bits 'n pieces

We sure hope the Mississippi State Highway Department's lawnmowers are not broken as the grass is growing very high on U.S. 90 in Hancock County.

We realize it has been a long summer, but we feel it is time for the grass to be cut once again, as it is almost hiding automobiles.

Officially in Mississippi Oct. 1 is the start of the fire season, but Hancock County has gotten the jump in September with so many woods fires and also dwelling fires.

It is very dry in our woods now and we tell everyone to be extremely careful with fires.

We noted Wednesday night some large fires near the Jourdan River. The whole sky was lighted up from the flames.

We know it is still warm, but it will not be too long before we dust off the old heaters and light them up.

Persons are urged to have their heating systems checked out now by qualified people to make sure they are in proper working condition before it gets cold.

It is better to have them ready and waiting for the cold weather than to wait for the last minute.

Faulty heaters cause many a home to burn each year in the U.S. and that is why October is the fire prevention month.

James Lewis, a Bay St. Louis resident, really gave vacationing Jerry Kelley of New Orleans a workout Tuesday gaffing all the jackfish he caught while fishing off the American Legion pier.

We took a photo of six of the fish caught by Lewis and it was the most we have ever seen caught by one angler on a fishing venture.

If sure is fun to catch those 25-30 pounders on light tackle if you can hold them.

Congratulations are in order today for the parishioners of the Pineville Presbyterian Church which will celebrate its 104th anniversary.

An invitation has been extended to the public by the Presbyterian Church which is located on Menge Avenue in North Pass Christian to attend a service which starts at 11 a.m.

We pass the church off and it sure has a beautiful setting among the live oaks and live oaks.

The communities of the Gulf Coast are blessed with old congregations of many religions.

We wish the Pineville Presbyterian church and members a rock solid 105th anniversary.

Home poisonings strike young adults

Poisonings are generally thought of in the home as child killers, but actually the biggest danger is to the 25 to 44 year old age group, with those 15 to 24 years close behind.

The American Medical Association says the answer to preventing poisonings involves proper labeling, packaging, medicine, poisons and educating adults about the dangers of mixing drugs and medicines that can strengthen each other's actions.

So sources say, every adult should be made to keep poisons out of the hands of children. These are the same poisons areas for insecticides, insecticides and disinfectants are an outright invitation to children.

Keep only such of these materials as you actually need. Keep containers tightly closed. The same applies to poisons. The danger of carbon monoxide has been well publicized, but it is still a leading cause of home poisoning.

Keep children away from poisons. Learning to recognize poisons is a key to safety. Children should be taught to

Small-business Angle

Ever since the 1980's, when the growth in the number of federal regulatory agencies began to mushroom, there have been suggestions that a fourth branch of government has emerged in the United States.

The impact of the thousands of new regulations issued in the past ten years has had a particularly severe impact on small businesses.

Small business people do not have large staffs to assist with record keeping, nor do they have attorneys on the payroll to advise them of the implications of every new rule coming out of Washington.

They do not subscribe to the Federal Register, the voluminous document where all new rules and proposed rules are published.

Furthermore, when small-business people are cited for violation of a government regulation, they frequently pay the fine, because they cannot afford to fight the government in court.

A small businessman in New Jersey thought he was right and OSHA was wrong, and he did challenge the agency in court. He won the case, but it cost him more than $3,000 to do so.

A small manufacturer in Wisconsin, also charged with safety violations, and also convinced that he was right and the inspectors were wrong, nevertheless opted for a reduction of the fines assessed against him, because he could not afford the cost of a prolonged legal battle.

Beginning October 1, small businesses will have a fighting chance in their disputes with government regulatory bodies.

The Equal Access to Justice Act, passed by the 96th Congress last year, requires reimbursement of court costs and attorneys' fees for small-business owners who successfully defend themselves against the government in civil suits.

The National Federation of Independent Business fought long and hard for such a law, because surveys by NFIB have shown that one in 25 small firms are fined each year.

Needless to say, the government is not always correct in its findings in those cases, but more often than not, the small-business response to a citation is to pay the fine rather than challenge the agency bringing the charge — because the cost of the challenge is prohibitive.

The new law allows a corporation with less than $5 million net worth and individuals with net worth of less than $1 million to recover from the federal government the direct court costs (filing fees, expenses of witnesses, reports or depositions necessary to the case) as well as "reasonable attorneys' fees."

Most small-business people will never need to invoke the provisions of the Equal Access to Justice Act, but for those who believe that they have been wrongly cited or penalized by a government regulation, the law puts them on a somewhat more even footing with their adversary.

Moreover, the law leaves no room for all government regulators that their performance will be monitored and their fairness tested. And those whose budgets reflect excessive payments of court costs will be identified as having regularly overstepped their authority.

(Wilson S. Johnson is president of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.)

Philip Wittmann provided the St. Stanislaus junior varsity with the margin of victory when he booted his first extra point of the season Thursday night as the Rocks defeated Bay Junior High School, 13-12.

Wittmann kick was set up when Mark Logan scored on a 5 yard run with only 75 seconds left on the clock to tie the contest at 12 each.

Logan intercepted a pass on the Bay 47 to start the winning drive. To a 10-12 tie.

The Junior Tigers got the score back first with a 27 yard pass play following a fumble recovery by the Rocks. Wittmann kicked the Rock 43-yard field goal.

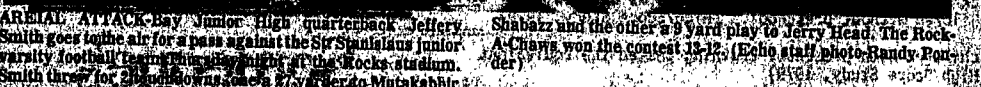

Quarterback Jeffery Smith, after scrambling around in the backfield, hit Mattakabab Shabazz with a pass in the corner of the endzone. After a point conversion attempt failed, leaving the young Tigers with a 60-40 advantage with 3:14 left in the first half.

St. Stanislaus came right back on the ensuing kickoff with an 80 yard march to knot the game at 6-6 just before halftime.

Rock quarterback Matthew Scardino threw a screen pass to Mark Logan on the 22 as the Tigers and Logan did the rest himself, going into the Score.

Bay Junior High took the lead again near the end of the third quarters. Smith connected with Jerry Head on a 9 yard touchdown strike to conclude a 74 yard drive. The 2 point conversion attempt was stopped short of the goal and the Tigers had to settle for a 12-6 lead.

The Junior Rocks put their 7 points on the scoreboard in the final drive to beat the Rocks.

Company and planned to change its name due to the merger.

"From what I gathered Butte is not on the market and the contract won't be issued until they have gone public," Webre said.

Webre said he did not press the company officials for details.

He stated the company representative would contact the commission when the merger was finalized.

Webre would not speculate when the commission will be notified to proceed with the lease contract.

"It could be any time," Webre said.

Gonzales had plans to rent some 54 acres in the industrial park and hire 300 employees.

The lease, now being held in abeyance, calls for a $1,500 rental fee per acre per year, or $81,000 annually for the first five years.

After the fifth year, the rental fee increases to $2,500 per acre, or $135,000 per year for the next five years.

The lease also would allow option agreements for successive rental after the 10 year year period.

Commissioner Victor Frankiewicz said the commission will make more money in less than six years by leasing the land to Gonzales then it would have if the land was sold outright.

The land, which includes some 800 feet of water front property, is just west of Engineered Steel in the Park.

James Savage, vice president of the firm, said the the oil rigs in some cases will be used to re-work holes already drilled by other companies, and in other cases will be used to develop newly drilled oil holes.

The lease agreement also calls for the company to abide by the commission's covenants designed for the industrial park. The company also agrees to expend "considerable monetary sums" for waterway improvements and permanent site improvements.

The commission last week approved modifying restrictive covenants regarding lot 47 and Professional Steel Fabricators' intent to purchase land from International Demolition and Salvage.

Otis Sharpe, representative of Professional Steel Fabricators would not comment Thursday on how much land the company hopes to purchase from IDS. He also would not comment on the nature of the work which the company hopes to implement in the industrial park.

Sale of that property would remove any possible law suits currently being considered against International Demolition by the commission, Wilson Webre, commission executive director said.

IDS bought the land from the commission several years ago but failed to meet restrictive covenants regarding employment density.

The commission requested the land be sold back at the original cost due to the breach in contract.

IDS refused, claiming they owned the property and could sell to whomever they pleased.

The resolution calling for a for a change in the covenants states the "purchase is contingent" upon those changes and "are in the best interest of Hancock County."

The changes in covenants will allow the commission to have more of a monitoring role in the sale of the land in the future.

One part of the agreement will allow the commission first right of refusing any company which might be interested in purchasing the land in the future. Also the commission must be given information regarding the types of prospective buyers interested in purchasing the land.

60 pound conference ruling, Ladner stated he had been in a recent pee-wee game and most of those kids on the field couldn't throw a ball. He said he would speak to them with a garden hose for half an hour.

He noted an exception with one player who "must have weighed 150 pounds."

"He's just run through the whole lot of them and nobody could stop him. Some of those kids could have been hurt. In fact some of them were," he said.

He said some parents at the game approached him about their concern of the obvious weight differences.

In regard to the parent's complaint, Monvel Cuevas stated, "Evidently if Mr. Hadcock objected he must have had a reason."

Since Hadcock was not present at the meeting, the board requested the parents attend their next meeting Saturday so they could meet with principal who board members said would be advised.

In other business, the board met in executive session with two representatives from the state audit department to discuss a routine audit of the district's 1979-80 fiscal year.

Leslie Rose, auditor for the department, said there were no problems.

with the audit which state law requires be made each year.

While waiting in school office's lobby, board members met with the auditors, Wendal Hadcock, school district maintenance man and Eulice Ladner, district maintenance helper, discussed reasons prompting their recent job resignations.

The board approved those resignations prior to meeting with the state auditors.

The two later met in executive session to inform members of those reasons. That meeting was conducted behind closed doors due to a motion from Louie Ladner to enter executive session for the purpose of discussing personnel matters.

However, before the session began, both Wendal and Eulice Ladner said they resigned due to outside interference from one school administrator's hiring of outside help.

They contend that on several occasions, they were never notified of the hired hands being employed.

"They allege the part time workers botched several jobs which they felt they could have done better if left alone. Both said they would not work for the current school district administration even if given $1,000 raise.

Fayard stated, "The refreshment service was real helpful when we were fighting brush fires for long periods of time."

"I knew the service was discontinued before because they ran out of money, but I didn't know it was offered on a limited basis now," he said.

Fayard recommended the head fire fighter at the scene not necessarily a chief, be authorized to call the Red Cross if help was needed.

"You're always looking for at least some water around because usually because water trucks don't have out off," he said.

At least the volunteer aware, the limited service was available, but he recommended working with Red Cross and the fire department.

vice.

The fire chief reported two Bay fire fighters are designated to assist the Red Cross.

"Providing the refreshment service is up to the Red Cross and their availability of funds, but I don't think it's necessary for them to respond to every fire," he stated.

Fellous said the refreshment service would have been helpful during last year's severe forest fires and a recent "all night" search for a lost man.

Rutherford reported, "Anytime a prolonged fire is expected and a chief request assistance we will send our refreshment unit, but it's unnecessary to go to every fire."

The local Red Cross is partially funded by the Hancock United Way.

Tigers are for real, upend Rocks, 14-7

By Randy Ponder
Bay High tightend Ronald Carter took a handoff from quarterback David Palmisano and raced 19 yards for the go ahead touchdown Friday night as the Tigers beat St. Stanislaus 14-7.

Following an exchange of punts, the Tigers were once again forced to punt from deep in their own territory. A ferocious rush from the Rock defenders caused Fayard to hurry his motion and instead of kicking the ball forward, it went straight up and bounced backwards for a net loss of 16 yards.

St. Stanislaus took over in great field position at the Tiger 14 and on the first play of the series, Rock quarterback Joe Gex handed the ball to Sean Logan and Logan ziz-zaged into the endzone standing up. John Dunham put the ball through the uprights and the Rocks claimed the early lead of 7-0 at the 2:42 mark of the first quarter.

On what would prove to be very important play, Palmisano pitched the football to Michael Lewis for a gain down to the Rock 39 for a first down.

QUARTERBACK IN TROUBLE—Bay High signal caller David Palmisano runs for his life as Rock-A-Chaw defender Mike Frendergast closes in. The defense controled the tempo of the game with most of the scoring coming after breaks forced by the defense. Bay High won the Deep South Conference matchup, beating St. Stanislaus 14-7 to take over the conference lead Friday night in Bay St. Louis. (Echo staff photo-Randy Ponder)

ON A ROLL—Ronald Carter runs out of the grasp of Mike Colton and races down the sidelines for a short gain. Carter scored on a 19 yard run with time running out in the game to propel the Bay High Tigers to a 14-7 come from behind victory over the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws Friday night at Tiger Stadium. (Echo staff photo-Randy Ponder)

Bay High was unable to score however as the Rock defense was up to the task and a 23 yard fieldgoal attempt missed to the right. The Tigers hurt themselves on the drive by being called for delay of the game on a third down and two play on the Rock 4 yard line. St. Stanislaus was unable to move and punted the ball back to Bay High.

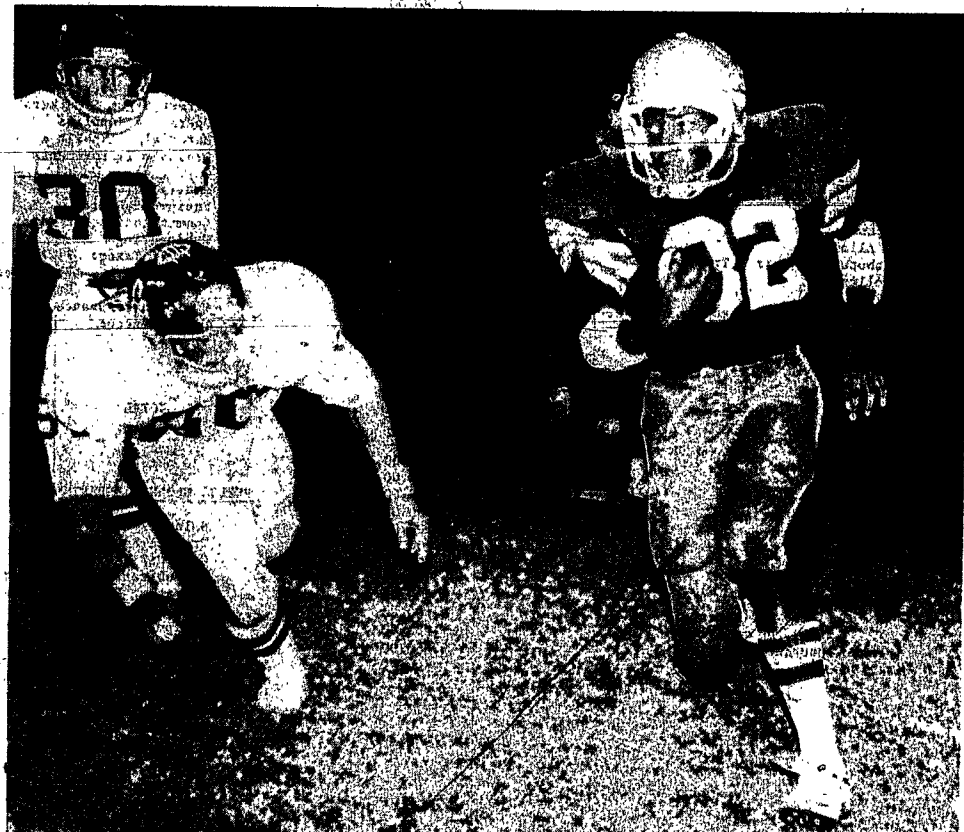

The Tigers were stopped in Rock territory again when John Killen intercepted a Palmisano pass near the Pass beats Stone in 19-18 squeaker

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Pass Christian High School Pirate football team barely squeaked past the Stone High School Tomcats winning the Friday night contest, 19-18, with just 23 seconds remaining in the game at Perkinston Junior College stadium. Pirate quarterback Ira Bradley personally earned the deciding touchdown on a quarterback sneak through the middle of a towering Tomcat defensive line.

The David and Goliath contest was evident with Stone fielding many players topping the 200-pound mark and a much smaller Pirate team relying on speed and agility to baffle the lumbering Tomcats.

However, Stone's sheer physical strength offensively many times overpowered the relatively small Pirate defenders. Although Tomcat quarterback Anthony Harris proved to be a poor passer, the confusing Wing-T formation coupled with a monster offensive line gave Stone the rushing game advantage. PASS—Page 11A

A 'Hall Mary' pass from Palmisano into the endzone was the last play of the first half. The ball fell incomplete among several would-be receivers and defenders.

Both the Tiger Pride and the Rock-A-Chaw Marching Band performed at halftime as the two teams took a breather,

The third quarter was completely dominated by the defense. Each team would run three plays and punt. This continued until the start of the final and deciding period. Bay High did try a 25 yard field goal which was wide of the goal.

At the 10:54 mark of the last quarter, Killeen took a Tiger punt on the Rock 15 and returned it to the 37.

From this point the Rocks mounted what appeared to be the potential winning drive. Gex and company moved steadily down field, aided by

But Pirate Head Coach Bob Lunkin Saturday offered a more critical view of his team's performance by stating, "We played the worst defensive game all year. We

The head coach also praised tight end Greg Porter and split end Timmy LaFontaine for outstanding performances. In a nip-and-tuck first quarter, Stone's offense finally bulled its way to the Pass 10-yard-line and with 48 seconds left in that period, Tombet fullback Harold Turner drove in for the TD.

"We just played real sloppy in the first half and we were fortunate to end that period tied 6-6. Stone could have had a couple more touchdowns," Lumpkin said.

But the head coach complimented his team for their performance under pressure and noted, "We had a couple of points where we could have quit, but our players kept their composure and executed key plays well."

Lumpkin particularly noted the fourth and 10 situation with the Elitres on their own 35-yard line.

After three consecutive plays Bradley had thrown complete passes to a variety of receivers, but after that seemingly disappointing effort he threw a screen pass to fullback Ben Fields who rambled to the Stone 48-yard-line—picking up a first down and inspiring a Pass drive which brought the winning score.

The head coach also praised tight end Greg Porter and split end Timmy LaFontaine for outstanding performances.

In a nip-and-tuck first quarter, Stone's offense finally bulled its way to the Pass 10-yard-line and with 48 seconds left in that period, Tomcat fullback Harold Tillman danced in for the TD.

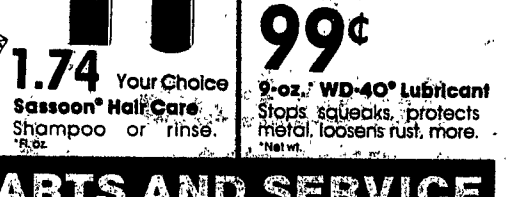

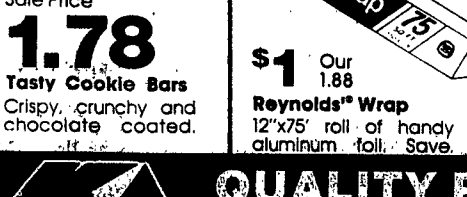

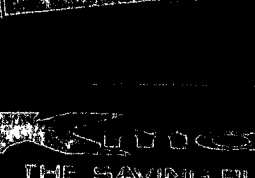

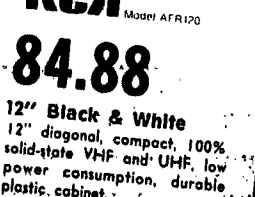

But a fumbled PAT attempt by Stone kept the score at 6-0.

After the Pass failed in gaining significant yardage in the second period, Stone took over, but Harris threw a wild pass which was intercepted by Pirate safety Charles DeMetz on the Tomcat 40-yard-line.

However, an unusually wobbly pass by Bradley was intercepted by Tomcat allback Danny Breland which halted the Pass drive.

Late in the first half, Bradley threw a series of passes which brought the Pirates to the Stone 12-yard line.

A short Bradley pass to Lafontaine tied the game with just more than a minute left.

left in the first half. In the remaining seconds of the first half, LaFontaine intercepted another Stone pass, but the Pirates couldn't bring down the Tomcat line. Third quarter action saw both teams battling for inches many times when frequent measurements brought front line struggles for the first down. At the beginning of the fourth period, Stone pushed deep into Pirate territory and fullback Harold Tillman ran in for six as Breland cleared a path through Pass defenders. The Pass defense held tough and thwarted the Tomcat conversion points effort. A charging hard Pirate offense came back and midway through the period on the Stone 25-yard line Bradley passed a touchdown pass again to LaFontaine. Pirate Jeff Ulrich kicked the only good PAT in the entire ball game which upped the score to 13-12 and ultimately was the deciding game-winning point. The Tomcat offense came back and charged to the Pass 37-yard line where in a complicated fake play Stone gained another six points. But the Pass defense stopped the conversion effort and froze the Stone score at 18 points. Bradley steered the Pirates for the final points and a botched conversion attempt set the game score of 18-18. Game statistics show Stone with 18 first downs compared to the Pirates' 15. The Tomcats gained a whopping 242 rushing yards to

First Baptist ceremony unites Haas, Webre

Katherine Leigh Webre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Norton Haas III, became the bride of James H. Haas III in an afternoon ceremony September 19 at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Webre of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are James H. Haas III, Sr. and Mrs. Haas, Jr. of St. Louis, La. and Mrs. Jesse Kathleen Delmas of Gulfport.

Rev. Nathan Barber officiated at the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with tall candle arrangements of white and pink flowers and peach carnations with satin ribbon, streamers and palm greenery.

Nuptial selections were provided by Mrs. Becky Tedford, accompanied by Mrs. Gail Carr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk chiffon over tulle tulle, fashioned with high neckline, sheer V-yoke adorned with lace and seed pearls and edged with a ruffle of crystal pleats. The fitted empire waistline and A-line skirt were trimmed in embroidered Belgian lace. Her headpiece of Belgian lace held a two tiered veil of tulle illusion.

She carried a cascade of silk roses, orchids, lily-of-the-valley and stephanotis interspersed with satin ribbon. Mrs. Virginia Landry of Irvington, Ala. attended her sister as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Janet Hamilton of Jackson; Donna Sick of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride; Susan Johnston of Biloxi; and Gloria Ballard of Gulfport.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of terra cotta silk featuring gentle blouson styling with bodice enhanced with yoke and sleeves of ivory rosepoint lace. A self rose and tiny cord tie at the waist emphasized the long wrap skirt.

They carried arm bouquets of peach tigerlilies, rust bell flowers, and beige baby's breath with rust and tulle tulle.

Junior bridesmaids were Mindy Ross and Kristy Ross of McLean, Va., nieces of the bride.

They wore long floral print dresses, featuring terra cotta flowers on ivory background with ivory lace trim and carried small arm bouquets of rust tigerlilies and ivory forget-me-nots with rust satin streamers.

Misses Melissa Landry of Irvington, Ala., niece of the bride; and Rose Manyok of Starkville, Miss., niece of the groom, were flower girls.

They wore long dresses of peach adorned with ivory lace trim. A wide satin sash tied at the empire waist accented the full skirt. They carried wicker baskets of peach blossoms and wore floral wreaths.

Serving the groom as best man was William Ballard of Gulfport.

Groomsmen were Shannon Green of Houston, Tex.; William Smith, William Odem, and Dennis McCall, all of Gulfport.

Ushers were Walter Smith and David Marks of Gulfport. The bride's mother chose for the occasion a two piece ensemble in mist green silk with beige accessories and a bronze orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom was attired in a lavender three piece crocheted knit ensemble with beige accessories and orchid corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony at the First Baptist Church fellowship hall.

The bride's table held a four tiered wedding cake topped with silk flowers. Arrangements of fugi and button mums and carnations flanked the cake on either side.

The skirted reception tables were decorated with fresh arrangements in fall tones.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Jerome Ross of McLean, Va., sister of the bride; Tish Haas of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the groom; and Kristy Ross, niece of the bride.

For traveling to Florida, the bride chose a slate blue dress with pleated skirt and suede shoes, and vanda orchid corsage.

The couple will reside in Gulfport.

Averhart, LaFontaine exchange vows

The Garden of the Donald E. Moran home formed the setting for the September 18 wedding uniting Peggy LaFontaine and Bill Averhart.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sidney LaFontaine of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mrs. Ollie Pagan of Jonesboro, Ark. and the late Joe Bill Averhart.

Justice Court Judge Bruce Nease officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony.

Baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums with white satin bows lined the walkway leading to a brass arch adorned with white pom poms and greenery. Brass basket stands accented with candles, white carnations, pom poms, baby's breath and greenery flanked the arch on either side.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Helen Sinclair of Delale.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over tulle tulle. The empire bodice featured a beaded schiffli embroidered yoke, enhanced with a chagilly lace flounce. The softly-gathered skirt with schiffli embroidered motifs was encircled with double flounces of chagilly lace extending to a chapel length train. Her mantilla of silk illusion was bordered in matching lace.

She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis, baby's breath and petit point ivy with satin streamers.

Lynn Fillingame of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as matron of honor.

She was attired in a sea green gown fashioned with spaghetti strap bodice and chiffon capelet with matching headpiece, and carried a nosegay of white sweetheart roses, baby's breath and petit point ivy with white streamers.

Kenny Moran of Bay St. Louis, nephew of the bride, was best man. The bride's mother chose for the occasion a formal A-line gown of blue crepe with chiffon cape and matching accessories. A corsage of white rosebuds completed her ensemble.

A reception followed the ceremony at the American Legion in Bay St. Louis.

The bride's table held a four tiered wedding cake decorated with roses and lily-of-the-valley, made by the bride's sister-in-law, Aline LaFontaine. Arrangements of white carnations, pom poms, baby's breath and fern decorated the table.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Aline LaFontaine of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. Judy LaFontaine of Long Beach, sisters-in-law of the bride; Denise LaFontaine, Michele LaFontaine, Lorraine LaFontaine, and Mrs. Helene Moran, all sisters of the bride, and Miss Moran, niece of the bride, all of Bay St. Louis.

The couple will reside in Gulfport.

Farewell tea honors Mrs. Bird

A farewell tea honoring Mrs. Robert Bird of Long Beach given Sunday last in the home of Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet of High Driver in Bay St. Louis.

The honoree's close friends, members of her church, representatives of the Gulf Coast chapter N.S. DAR and Beauvoir Chapter U.D.C., and Long Beach chapter members attended the event.

Mrs. Bird, a long time resident of Long Beach and former employee of the VA Hospital in Gulfport, is a past-regent of the Gulf Coast chapter N.S. DAR she also held offices in the U.D.C., Long Beach Garden Club, and St. Monica Chapter Women of Trinity in Pass Christian. She served as historian of the U.D.C. group with which she was affiliated.

Active in both civic and social circles, Mrs. Bird was instrumental in bringing a series of excellent programs to the Pineville Presbyterian Church, and assisted with entertainments for local nursing facilities.

Mrs. Bird, together with her husband and son, Robert M. Jr., will reside in Buena Vista, Va., a suburb of Lexington. The area in which Mrs. Bird grew up.

Of special interest at the tea was a display of water color paintings by the well known local artist, Nadine Stamm, whose newest sea life series includes familiar fishes, crustaceans and shell fish, a portfolio of 32 water colors. The Pilet home featured early fall foliage and flowers placed at vantage points and the tea table was covered with a lace cloth over laying a deep orange liner.

It was appointed with a cut glass, crystal and silver service.

by Miss Martha Van Peck, both of Waveland, served at the refreshment center.

Guests of honor included Mrs. Fred Sinquefeld and Mrs. Roy J. Jones of Gulfport, both former regents of the Gulf Coast chapter N.S. DAR.

As friendship gifts and cards were opened by Mrs. Bird, the guests, lead in singing by Mrs. Camille, sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

Kilbrides to celebrate 40th anniversary

Blue Jeans Gardeners to meet October 15

A program on the care of herb gardens highlighted the September 24 meeting of the Blue Jeans Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Joseph Roppolo of Waveland.

Mrs. Beverly Coogan instructed the group on how to grow herbs in a bachelor's pot.

President Mrs. Henry (Lois) Kothmann welcomed Doris Hoppe as a new member.

Judging in various categories of horticulture and arrangements resulted in the following awards to club members: Horticulture — Mrs. Eunice Murray; Dried, Wild and Miniature — Mrs. Maurice Shea; Cultivated — Mrs. Frank Klein; and Potted — Mrs. William Hero.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Kothmann and Mrs. Roppolo.

The next club function is scheduled for October 15.

Morgan, Clark wed in Connecticut

Captain and Mrs. John Walter Clark announce the marriage of his daughter, Miss Ann Hamilton Clark, to John Virgil Morgan of New York.

The wedding was solemnized Friday, September 25, in a 7 p.m. ceremony in the Meeting House, Mystic Seaport, Conn.

A reception and dinner immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride, whose late mother was Miss Evelyn Ruth Hamilton of Gulfport and Bay St. Louis, is formerly of Bay St. Louis and New Orleans.

She received a BA from Rice University where she majored in drama.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. Monte Mahlon Strand of Lynnwood, Wash. and the late Virgil Hayward Morgan, of Los Angeles, Calif.

He is a graduate of Everett College where he received a BFA in fine arts and music.

Following a wedding trip the couple will reside in New York City.

Gulf Coast Needleart Guild names winners

The Gulf Coast Needleart Guild met at 7 p.m. Monday, September 28 at the Enter Building in Gulfport.

Members shared and voted on each other's summer stitchery projects with the theme "By the Sea." Five $25 cash prizes were awarded to the winners for their efforts.

Winners were: Jan Dublison for her counted cross stitch piece of shells with a border; Joan McMahon for her silk and metal thread embroidery; Kim Overstreet for her crewel piece of sea grasses and also Kim's original quilted piece of a flounder using beautiful brown calico; and Helen Parten for her original quilted work piece on blue linen of a shrimp boat and the outline of the map of the state of Mississippi.

Helen Parten's original piece with a cash prize was also selected to be in the National Standards Council of American Embroiders display to be held in conjunction with the stitchery meeting in Minneapolis.

Members brought their favorite "sailed dishes" and everyone enjoyed sampling. The annual needlework show will be held in the library and theatre at Beauvoir in conjunction with the Spring Planting, Tuesday, March 22, 1982.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Monday in October. Interested persons are invited to attend.

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

OVERSEEDING

Overseeding closely grazed bahiagrass, bermudagrass and dallisgrass pastures with ryegrass or clover-ryegrass mixtures can provide economical winter and spring grazing for the brood cow herd plus serving as a back-up to your stocker grazing program.

Permanent sods should be overseeded no more often than every other year. Overseeding the same areas each year can increase weed infestation and reduce summer grass stand.

Select fields where controlled (limited) grazing can be practiced and the breeding program managed. Where areas to be overseeded have a heavy sod, harvest for hay, clip close or concentrate cattle to graze off as much top growth as possible. Planting in a sod taller than three inches will slow ryegrass growth and often little grazing will be produced before early spring.

Overseeding with no soil disturbance usually causes ryegrass to grow off slowly. Shallow-preplanting cultivation helps provide the ryegrass seed good soil contact and helps reduce competition from the existing sod. A spring-time harrow or field cultivator equipped with pasture plow points (triple K type) or a pulverizing disk with most of the set removed will usually give adequate surface cultivation. In dense sods, two or more trips with these implements may be needed. After seeding, a harrow run at 45 degree angle to the direction of the cultural implement will help cover seed and smooth the field.

Older pastures often have soil compaction problems and deeper renovation before overseeding will greatly increase overall productivity. A pasture renovator run 8-10 inches deep on contour will help break this compacted layer and produce an excellent seedbed.

Loosening the compacted soil layer and allows moisture, organic residues and surface applied lime and fertilizer to move into the root area. Improved forage production can be expected next season from these renovated fields. If a chisel plow or subsoiler is used, it usually needs a disking to level the field. After renovation with any implement, the field should be smoothed, planted; then culitpacked for quick germination.

Planting 30-40 pounds of ryegrass seed per acre in mid-

October will often give grazing by early January. Adequately-nitrated. The most efficient use nitrogen fertilizer is achieved when a small amount is applied at planting and the balance to bring the total applied to at least 60 pounds actual N per acre to topdressed after ryegrass is up to a stand.

Applying a full rate of nitrogen at planting will give ryegrass a quicker start, but the permanent sod will usually be stimulated and use some of this nitrogen. On plantings after November 1, nitrogen should be applied at seeding. Lime, phosphorus and potash for the year can be applied at this time.

Where it is desirable to add a clover to the permanent sod, it can easily be done during overseeding. Ryegrass seeding rate is best dropped to 20-25 pounds per acre to reduce competition.

To successfully grow clovers on your overseeded sod pastures, early growing season management must favor the clovers so they can get established.

The annual clovers adapted to Central and South Mississippi are crimson (Autauga, Chief, Dixie, Tibbee), subclover (Mt. Barker, Woogenellup, Tallarook), arrowleaf (Yuchi, Meechee) and ball clover.

The white clovers (La. S-1, Merit, Regal) are the perennial clovers recommended. Red clover works well for grazing and hay.

The later maturing ryegrass blends appear to fit well with red clover and arrowleaf clover to provide grazing into the early summer. Inoculate all clover seed with the specific inoculant for the variety planted.

Several advantages of including clovers are greater intake of forage, better milk flow, higher conception rates, higher calf weaning weights, plus they provide some nitrogen for use by the companion grass. START WHEAT RIGHT Interest in planting wheat is high again this fall. No doubt the record crop last year still lingers in the minds of a lot of farmers, but we can't expect those kinds of yields every year. But we can make good yields regularly if we use good management.

Start by selecting the right varieties. Variety trial results are available at the county Extension Office. We have some good varieties available, but we need to consider several factors in making a choice, including disease resistance.

Diseases weren't a major problem in our wheat last year, but we certainly don't want to ignore disease resistance. In a year when rust problems are severe, some varieties can't be expected to perform as well as other varieties that have better resistance. Septoria also can be a serious disease problem.

All varieties may need a fungicide to produce highest yields. Fungicides to control seed rots and seedling diseases increase seedling emergence and survival rates by 10 to 15 percent. Instead of treating the seed, some farmers simply increase the planting rate. This may or may not make up for seedling disease losses. The best way to solve this problem is to treat the seed.

Arrange for your seed before hand so you will be sure to get the variety you want.

But don't plant too early. Wait until October, preferably after October 15 in most of the state, to plant to reduce fall insect problems.

MANAGE FORAGES

Producing good forage crops is expensive, and it takes good management to produce a profit. That's why you need to consider soil testing, lime and fertilizer, legumes and proper grazing in your forage program.

Without a soil test, you have no way to know the lime and fertilizer needs of your soil. And with the high cost of both, this free service can save you money. Our office has the materials you need.

Most forages grow best at a soil pH of about 6.5. You may need to add lime to reach this pH level. Some forages will grow at a lower pH, but legumes like a higher pH.

Using 300 pounds of 13-13-13 is not a cure-all in producing forages. In fact, the newer 0-17-34 and 5-15-30 ratios often fit soil test needs better. And, you can plant legumes to furnish additional nitrogen. Some legumes produce 100 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre annually, which is used by the legumes and grasses growing with the legumes.

Story Hour titles listed

Pre-school children are invited to an animal story hour this Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library.

The stories to be read are: A Crowd of Cows by John Graham; Baby Animals by Tien and If I Were by Barbara Shook Hazen.

The program will conclude with the finger play "Finding a Friend."

CHOIRS TO TOUR
Dr. Jerry Jordan, director of choral activities at The University of Mississippi, has been appointed guest conductor for the greater Memphis Choral and will direct the group on a concert tour of Europe in June, 1982. The Choral has invited members of the University Choral and the Oxford Community Chorus — both under the direction of Dr. Jordan — to join the summer tour, which will take participants to Germany, the Netherlands, Austria and Switzerland. This will be the second European trip for some Old Miss singers. In May 1981 Dr. Jordan took 27 members of the University Choral on a European concert tour.

NEW CHAIRMEN
The University of Mississippi began the 1981-82 academic year with five new department chairmen and two acting chairmen. New department heads will include Dr. H. Leon Garrett, chairman of the School of Education's Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation; Dr. Jean Kincaid, chairman of the School of Education's Department of Home Economics; Lt. Col. John Milhouse, chairman of the aerospace studies department, which offers the Air Force ROTC program; Col. Donald R. Taylor, chairman of the military science department, which sponsors the Army ROTC program; and Dr. Gerald U. Skelly, chairman of the Department of Marketing and Management in the School of Business Administration. Acting chairmen are Dr. Jack Davis Brown in the Department of Modern Languages and Dr. Daniel R. Hollas in the Department of Economics and Finance in the School of Business Administration.

ETV Briefs

WALL STREET
This, of public interest, longest running financial news program on Mississippi ETV. Regularly seen at 7:30 p.m., Fridays, the weekly stock market program can also be seen at 4 p.m., Sundays, beginning October 4.

Louis Ruker continues to provide up-to-the-minute weekly reports on the latest stock market trends and forecasts and hosts special guests.

FARM WEEK
Federal taxes will no longer cover the cost of "classing" or grading cotton to determine its quality. Instead, farmers must pay a 60 cent per bale assessment fee, and confusion as to how the fee should be collected has been mounting.

"Farmweek" host Tyson Gair said that "Farmweek," a weekly half-hour program for Mississippi farmers and their families, will attempt to clear up this confusion on the first broadcast of its fifth season at 7:30 p.m., Monday, October 5, on Mississippi ETV.

On the show, "Farmweek" reporters will talk with Dick Slay at the Greenwood cotton classing center, Frank Domino, president of the National Ginners Association and Hugh Arant, president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau.

"Farmweek" is a co-production of the Mississippi Center for Educational Television and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

ETV Brief

PESTICIDES & PILLS
The marketing of potentially dangerous pesticides and medications in Third World nations is the subject of "Pesticides and Pills: For Export Only," a two-part investigative report that launches the fourth season of "Nonfiction Television" on Mississippi ETV.

"Pesticides and Pills: For Export Only" can be seen at 9 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, October 5 and 7.

Allegedly marketing the substances are some multinational corporations who do so without proper information about their goods' possible hazardous effects. Also charged is that the practice not only threatens the worldwide ecological balance, but human life as well.

According to the film, the United States, Great Britain, France, Switzerland and West Germany are among the industrial nations that continue to market certain pesticides and medications whose domestic use has been restricted or banned because of potentially dangerous side effects. Some of these pesticides and drugs are, nevertheless, shipped to Third World countries, a practice that is legal under current laws.

UNITED WAY IS YOUR INSTRUMENT OF HUMAN CHARITIES.

Pecan owners rights extended to public roads

That old favorite fall activity of driving along country roads looking for pecans to harvest could be an expensive afternoon outing.

Dr. Richard Mullenax, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service horticulturist, reminds Mississippians that a bill passed by the 1981 Mississippi Legislature makes it illegal for anyone to remove pecans which fall from private orchards onto public rights-of-way during harvest season.

"The harvest season is defined as beginning on Oct. 1 and ending on Dec. 31," Dr. Mullenax explains. "Anyone found guilty of violating this law can be fined $100 or imprisoned in a county jail for 30 days or both."

The law, House Bill 772, clearly states that when pecan trees are grown on private property and branches of such trees extend over a public road, street or highway right-of-way, any pecans falling from trees are the property of the owner of the pecan trees until the end of harvesting season.

It states also that anyone removing pecans from the public right-of-way during the harvest season without permission of the owner is breaking the law, he adds. It's unlawful for anyone, without permission of the owner, to pick or otherwise remove any pecans from the branches of the trees or to cause pecans to fall from trees.

Any pecans remaining on a public road, street or highway right-of-way after Dec. 31 are considered to be abandoned by the owner, he adds. So, after harvest season ends, it's not unlawful to gather pecans left on a public right-of-way.

"Don't let the aroma of toasted pecans or that southern delicacy, pecan pie, tempt you to break a law this fall," he says. "It's not worth the price you'll have to pay."
